With the Purchase Analysis module you have clearly understandable crosstabs that you can use to analyse and present your purchases per product and supplier, in any desired combination and from any desired perspective. What is more, you can easily export these tables to Excel for further analysis and processing.

BUSINESS

FOR WHOM?

For everyone who wants to analyse and present purchases, products and prices from any desired perspective.

ADVANTAGES

- Superb insight into your purchases, enabling you to improve the planning of your purchasing process and reduce costs in your sales process.
- Clearly understandable crosstabs that you can use to analyse and present your purchases per product and supplier, in any desired combination and from any desired perspective.
- Perfect linkage with standard software such as Excel.
- Comparative reports on several financial years.

* Extension of the POP I module.

FLEXIBLE REPORTING PERIOD

View your purchasing information for any desired period: per day, week, month, quarter or year, for example. This means you always have the right overviews and analyses of your purchasing results. This is convenient if (for example) you produce seasonal items and you want to know who has purchased what, and in what quantity.

COMPLETE INSIGHT

Use the handy crosstabs to evaluate the interrelationships between purchasing factors at a glance – over short or long periods and in chart form as well in crosstabs.

ATTRACTIVE GRAPHICAL PRESENTATIONS

You can perform financial analyses and process your purchasing data in AccountView, but use the powerful graphical presentation facilities of Excel for further analysis and processing.
