

PRODUCT CARDS

Do you want to keep track of the transactions per product?
Then you need the handy Product Cards module.

FOR WHOM?

For everyone who wants to keep better track of product transactions.

Do you want to know, product by product, what you have sold and when? Or what your opening stock was, and what cost price adjustments have taken place? The Product Cards module offers you historical overviews of the transactions per product, in chronological order and sorted by transaction type. Nothing will escape your attention.

* Extension to the Sales Order Processing I, POP I or Stock Control modules.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW

Inspect historical product transactions quickly on screen and print them. See all product transactions in a single overview, sorted in chronological order and displayed per transaction type. This means that, for each product, you know exactly what was sold when, what the opening stock was and what cost price adjustments have taken place.

TRANSACTION TYPES

You can specify which types of transaction (Sales, Purchase or Stock) are to be displayed in your reports and how the transactions are to be sorted. Select sorts by product code and by day book page, and the transaction types will be subdivided into sales, purchase and stock products.

PRODUCT CARDS

Do you want to print your product transactions in a report? No problem. With the Product Cards module, you decide which transaction types are to appear in your report and how the transactions are to be sorted. You can also decide whether your report is to cover multiple products or product groups. This allows you to draw up and print highly detailed overviews of your product transactions.

FAST SEARCHING

Let AccountView create a line on the product card for each product transaction. You can use the information on the card – the day book, the period, the customer or supplier and the order number, for example – to quickly look up the purchase or sales order. This makes it easy to check the origin of product transactions.

DETAILED PRODUCT CARD

Use the product to get a detailed overview of all your product transactions.

YOUR OWN REPORTS

Print overviews for several products or product groups in order of product code, invoice/reference number or day book page.

ADVANTAGES

- Detailed insight into your product transactions because you can quickly inspect and print historic product transactions.

- Flexible filter facilities within the product transactions; for example, you can quickly retrieve all the deliveries of a selected product for a specific customer.

- Various types of transaction, including sales, purchases, stock transactions, assembly, stock revaluations, inter-warehouse transfers, receipts and deliveries.
